Welcome

Dr. Orley Herron, National's new president, has brought excitement and sparked much enthusiasm throughout the college. He believes "National College is on the threshold of a very exciting era." Dr. Herron has high ideals and many expectations. "Our faculty, administration and staff are capable of soaring intellectually and professionally, and I'm here to help maximize their potential — to make this a superior school of education in that term's broadest sense. A great deal of dedication to this college exists; I want to draw it into commonality — while allowing for diversity."

One of the areas in which Dr. Herron believes to be an important area to explore is International Education. Since Dr. Herron has been president, an international program has been formulated with the first semester starting in the Fall of 1978. Destinations for the year are London, Florence and Paris.

With the increasing technology in our world Dr. Herron is also looking toward education in space. The time is not that far off when the technology known to us now can be applied to make this all possible.

Dr. Herron believes that excellent faculty is a key to NCE's development, and he particularly encourages faculty writing. Dr. Herron himself has written three books and many articles. He plans on writing two more books in the future.

Physical fitness is also important, and Dr. Herron has been active in sports most of his life. He participated in the intramurals at NCE this year and you may often have seen him swimming in the college pool or jogging down Linden Street.

Before becoming National's sixth president, Dr. Herron was president for seven years of Greenville College, an Illinois liberal arts college. He also administered as assistant to the president at Indiana State University, and at the University of Mississippi and Westmont College (Santa Barbara, Calif.). He holds a bachelor's degree from Wheaton College and a master's and Ph.D. degrees from Michigan State University.

At Greenville College Dr. Herron was often referred to as "The Big O." It has become apparent to many at National that this nickname is suitable because of the many big things Dr. Herron has accomplished!

One of these big things was the NCE challenge. With Dr. Herron's hard work and guidance, National as a whole raised enough money to meet this challenge and raise the college from deficit. Every area of National was involved from all campuses. Everyone is congratulated for their efforts!

The family is essential to Dr. Herron. "It is very important to me to be the type of father and husband I should be," he said. He is married to Donna Morgan Herron, and the Herrons have three children.

Futura, as a part of National, would like to welcome the Herrons, and we hope that your stay at National will be as beneficial to you as it has been and will be to us!

Freshman Week

1. Dean Griesing herds Freshmen to the barbeque.
2. Freshmen at their first meal at college.
3. Lynn Johnson and Sandra Glover — all smiles.
4. Dr. Challand explains her part in natural sciences as Debbie Johnson listens intently.
5. Lydia Bollweg, Diana Moore, and Rose Cyrrer find interviewing the behavioral science staff enjoyable.
6. "I hope they'll understand we haven't written a thing all summer."

Personal Development workshops are a part of Freshman Week. Dean Bair and Lynn Cahoon find "the good news telegram" amusing. A group discusses their expectations of college. Cheryl Zawistowski, Kirk Langseth and Tina Irwin work with children during the Learning Fair.

1. Freshmen do their thing to the hokey pokey at Serendipity.
2. Mindy Lane doing her jazz dance.
3. The Japanese Warship crew spots an American ship.
4. Darling daughter causes hysteria on the stage.
5. Ann Fox displays two of her talents with a song.
6. Cindy Ditmars can't help that she's the greatest star.
7. Meg Lauritzen invites us to join in singing.
8. "You gotta have heart," Evey Menges and Tina Irwin explain in a song and dance.

1. Joan Bently and Cookie Miller place bets with Ann Bosson.
2. At Casino Night, players have mixed reactions about the deal.
3. Lori Kaspar and John have those Baker Dorm Blues.
4. Live entertainment was provided in a coffee house setting after the Casino closed.
5. Liz Harvey and Ginny Quetsch anticipate a good time at the picnic on the beach.
6. After supper, volleyball was played on the shores.
7. Meanwhile Joanne Kolnes, Lynn Huss, Mary Ann Innes and Lydia Bollweg watch as classmates try to get the steps to a folk dance.

Success

To laugh often and love much; to win respect of intelligent persons and the affections of children; to earn the approbation of honest critics and endure the betrayal of false friends; to appreciate beauty; to find the best in others; to give of one's self; to leave the world a bit better, whether by a healthy child, a garden patch or a redeemed social condition; to have played and laughed with enthusiasm and sung with exultation; to know even one life has breathed easier because you have lived — this is to have succeeded.

The yearbook would like to take this time to apologize to those seniors whose pictures are not in the book, as well as their sayings. Due to a slight mix-up the pictures had to be reprocessed and some of the pictures were not available, and the sayings were misplaced. We are very sorry!

The Past

Everyone talks about their past sometime
In ten years you'll look back at college and you'll remember your past
The friends, the fun, the good times, the bad times and everything else will be retraced

Conjuring up reminiscences is a purpose of this book. So leave it in a convenient place — in between your mattresses, under an uneven table leg, or maybe even with your book collection. Someday you'll want to know a friend's address or recall the intramural season, or find out who your Comp I teacher was.

Cabaret

What good is sitting alone in your room?

Come hear the music play;

Life is a Cabaret, old chum,

Come to the Cabaret.

Put down the knitting, the book

And the broom, time for a holiday

Life is a Cabaret, old chum

Come to the Cabaret.

Come taste the wine, come hear the band, come blow the horn,

Start celebrating, right this way,

Your table's waiting! . . .

*The end of one life
The beginning of another*

Sadness

*Friends going their separate ways,
Scattered to the far ends of the earth
Will I ever see them again?*

Alone

*The feeling that grows within me
Decisions to make —
No one to turn to for advice.*

*What will comfort me?
New friends and challenges to meet
Everything different —
A new life.*
